35 ROMERO & MILLER

Rioja Rentas de Fincas Reserva 2005 Score: 92 | $18 | Spain

Importer Ramón Romero has focused on creating Spanish brands for the U.S. market. A collaboration with Navarra-born and France-trained winemaker Pilar García-Granero, the Rentas de Fincas Reserva is made from Tempranillo with small amounts of Garnacha and Graciano. The wine is fermented in stainless steel tanks, then aged for 12 months in French and American oak barrels before being bottled. García-Granero favors used barrels over new ones, to "preserve the personality of the grapes." 2,000 cases imported.

"Elsewhere in Europe, Spain makes its presence felt with 10 reds, led by the Tempranillo-based Romero & Miller Rioja Rentas de Fincas Reserva 2005 (92, $18), which is still youthful tasting and shows intense red fruit flavors". Thomas Matthews, Wine Spectator.

Rentas de Fincas Reserva has been released just three times in the past decade, the first two times to rave reviews.
